Terms of Use

EFFECTIVE DATE: SEPTEMBER 1, 2026

These terms explain the conditions that apply when visitors use JoanDHampton.com and its content.

Welcome to JoanDHampton.com. By accessing or using this website, you agree to these Terms of Use. If you do not agree, please discontinue use of the website.

1. Purpose of This Website

JoanDHampton.com provides information about Joan D. Hampton, her speaking and hosting services, podcast, media appearances, advocacy work, and areas of focus, including beauty, fitness, fashion, women's empowerment, spiritual growth, and domestic violence advocacy for victims.

2. Informational Content

The information provided on this website and through Joan, Let's Talk! is for general educational and inspirational purposes only.

Content related to fitness, health, wellness, domestic violence, spirituality, or personal development is not a substitute for professional medical, legal, mental health, counseling, safety-planning, or emergency services.

You should consult a qualified professional regarding your personal circumstances before making health, fitness, legal, or safety-related decisions.

3. Domestic Violence and Emergency Support

Joan D. Hampton and JoanDHampton.com do not provide emergency intervention, crisis counseling, shelter placement, legal representation, or medical services.

Do not use the booking form or email to request emergency assistance or share confidential information about an abusive situation.

If you are in immediate danger, call 911.

For confidential domestic violence support, contact the National Domestic Violence Hotline:

Call: 1-800-799-SAFE (7233)

Text: START to 88788

Visit: TheHotline.org

4. Booking Requests

Submitting a booking request does not confirm Joan's availability or create a binding agreement.

All appearances, speaking engagements, hosting opportunities, fees, travel arrangements, and other terms must be confirmed through a separate written agreement.

5. Intellectual Property

Unless otherwise stated, the text, photographs, graphics, logos, podcast content, videos, branding, and other materials on this website belong to Joan D. Hampton or are used with permission.

You may view and share links to publicly available content for personal, noncommercial purposes. You may not copy, reproduce, sell, publish, modify, or distribute website content without written permission.

6. Acceptable Use

You agree not to:

- Use the website for unlawful, harmful, or fraudulent activity.
- Attempt to interfere with the website's operation or security.
- Submit false, misleading, abusive, or unauthorized information.
- Use website content in a way that violates intellectual property or privacy rights.
- Submit another person's private information without permission.

7. External Links and Services

The website may link to podcast platforms, social media services, advocacy resources, or other third-party websites. Joan D. Hampton does not control these services and is not responsible for their content, security, availability, or privacy practices.

8. No Guarantees

The website and its content are provided on an "as available" basis. While reasonable efforts are made to keep information accurate and current, no guarantee is made that all content will always be complete, error-free, or available.

To the fullest extent permitted by law, Joan D. Hampton will not be responsible for losses or damages resulting from the use of, or reliance on, this website or its content.

9. Changes to These Terms

These Terms of Use may be updated as the website, services, or legal requirements change. The revised effective date will be posted at the top of this page.

10. Governing Law

These Terms of Use are governed by the laws of the State of South Carolina.

Privacy Policy

EFFECTIVE DATE: SEPTEMBER 1, 2026

This policy explains what information may be collected through JoanDHampton.com and how that information may be used.

Joan D. Hampton and JoanDHampton.com respect your privacy.

1. Information You Provide

We may collect information that you voluntarily provide when you:

- Submit a booking request.
- Contact Joan by email.
- Request information about speaking, hosting, media, or program opportunities.
- Communicate with us through the website.

This information may include your name, organization, event information, event date and location, telephone number, requested role or topic, audience information, budget or honorarium range, and any other information included in your message.

2. Information Collected Automatically

The website and its service providers may automatically collect limited technical information, including:

- Internet Protocol address.
- Browser and device type.
- Approximate geographic location.
- Pages viewed and time spent on the website.
- Referring website or link.
- Cookie and website interaction information.

This information may be used to operate, secure, maintain, and improve the website.

3. How Information Is Used

Information may be used to:

- Review and respond to booking requests.
- Communicate about speaking, hosting, media, and program opportunities.
- Provide requested information.
- Maintain and improve the website.
- Protect the website from fraud, misuse, or security threats.
- Comply with legal obligations.

4. How Information May Be Shared

Personal information may be shared with service providers that help operate the website, process booking inquiries, host podcast content, provide analytics, or support communications.

Information may also be disclosed when required by law or when reasonably necessary to protect Joan D. Hampton, website visitors, or others.

We do not exchange personal information for money.

5. Cookies

JoanDHampton.com may use essential, functional, and analytics cookies. Cookies help the website operate, remember preferences, understand website traffic, and improve performance.

You may adjust cookie settings through your browser or through any cookie controls provided on the website. Disabling cookies may affect certain website features.

6. Third-Party Services

The website may connect to or link to services operated by third parties, including Wix, RedCircle, podcast platforms, social media networks, and analytics providers.

These services may collect information under their own privacy policies. We encourage you to review their policies before using their services.

7. Data Security and Retention

Reasonable administrative and technical measures are used to protect information. However, no website, email system, or online transmission can be guaranteed completely secure.

Information will be retained only as long as reasonably necessary to respond to inquiries, manage professional records, operate the website, or meet legal obligations.

8. Children's Privacy

This website is not directed to children under the age of 13, and we do not knowingly collect personal information from children under 13.

If you believe a child has submitted personal information, contact us so that appropriate action can be taken.

9. Your Privacy Choices

You may contact us to request access to, correction of, or deletion of personal information you have submitted, subject to legal and recordkeeping requirements.

Depending on where you live, you may have additional privacy rights under applicable law.

10. Domestic Violence and Sensitive Information

The booking form and general email address are not monitored for crisis support and should not be treated as confidential emergency communication.

Please do not submit detailed information about abuse, medical conditions, legal matters, or personal safety through the website.

If you are in immediate danger, call 911.

For confidential support, call the National Domestic Violence Hotline at 1-800-799-SAFE (7233), text START to 88788, or visit TheHotline.org.

11. Changes to This Policy

This Privacy Policy may be updated as the website, its services, or legal requirements change. The revised effective date will be posted at the top of this page.

12. Contact

Questions or privacy requests may be directed to joandhampton@gmail.com.

Accessibility Statement

EFFECTIVE DATE: SEPTEMBER 1, 2026

Joan D. Hampton is committed to making JoanDHampton.com welcoming and accessible to people of all abilities.

1. Accessibility Goal

Our goal is to provide a website that follows the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines, WCAG 2.2 Level AA, where reasonably possible. Accessibility is an ongoing effort, and the website will continue to be reviewed and improved as content and technology change.

2. Our Accessibility Efforts

Ongoing accessibility efforts include:

- Using clear headings and page structure.
- Providing meaningful alternative text for images.
- Supporting keyboard navigation.
- Using readable text and sufficient color contrast.
- Adding clear labels and instructions to forms.
- Providing captions, transcripts, or text alternatives for podcast and media content where available.
- Reviewing the website for accessibility barriers.

3. Third-Party Content

Some podcast players, videos, social media features, or external websites are operated by third parties. We may not control the accessibility of those services, but we welcome reports of difficulties accessing linked or embedded content.

4. Accessibility Feedback

If you experience an accessibility barrier, please contact us at joandhampton@gmail.com.

Please include the webpage address and a brief description of the issue. If you are comfortable doing so, you may also identify the browser, device, or assistive technology you were using.

We will make reasonable efforts to review your concern, provide information in an alternative format when possible, and improve the website experience.
